HISTORY OF THE TOURNAMENT

Giving back was the genesis for Southern Oregon's premier basketball tournament.

Kids Unlimited gives 100% of its proceeds from the Southern Oregon Open to its programs and projects that support the region's most vulnerable children and families. This annual benefit continues the spirit of the inaugural event founded in 2007 by Kyle Singler.

A South Medford High School alumnus, Singler incorporated his love of basketball with his senior project, hoping to institute an event that would have staying power in the community that was so supportive of his basketball career. Singler went on to lead Duke University to an NCAA national title and played for seven seasons in the NBA.

The first tournament, in which KU's founder and CEO Tom Cole played an integral role, hosted 19 teams from around Southern Oregon and Northern California. Revenue totaled $1,000, which all went to Kids Unlimited. As the tournament grew, Singler's family — brother EJ Singler, who played for the Oregon Ducks, and parents Ed and Kris Singler — ensured its growth and expansion.

In 2022, the Singler Open was rebranded the Southern Oregon Open. Teams comprise boys and girls in grades 5-12. The tournament has become the largest sports tourism event in the region.

ABOUT KIDS UNLIMITED

Kids Unlimited has spent nearly 3 decades ensuring access and equity to all children. Our mission to empower through opportunity has provided the support our children need to learn, grow, play, dream and achieve. Our journey tells the story of what can happen when you clear away obstacles in front of kids and surround them with the assets they need to be successful. As an organization, we continue mirroring the actions we hope to foster in our children: listening, learning and, most importantly, doing. By removing barriers and creating opportunities, we have built an institution where education is prioritized and where hard work, accepting responsibility and showing respect for all is reinforced daily.
